The Honorable Allen W. Dulles, Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

Congratulations for talk you gave before the Veterans of Foreign Wars at their convention at Detroit, Michigan.

Its about time our leaders in Washington have come to recognize the dangers of Communism and to have given the facts to the people. If you wish to receive a ~~shock~~, be sure to view the film, "Communism on the Map" produced by the Educational Dept. of Hardin College, Searcy, Arkansas.

To realize our leaders were fooled by Nikita Khrushchev is beyond me. Certainly they must have known what kind of a person he is. Our leaders have a lot of making up to do to offset the damage which was done. To think we trusted him. I ask myself, "Why?"

Very sincerely,

C. C. Plumback

THE RECORD TELLS

Who Is Nikita S. Khrushchev?

WHO IS NIKITA S. Khrushchev, the man who wants to sit down and talk peace with the free world, the man who demands apologies from the West for affronts to his sensitivities? Let the record of his deeds tell who he is.

Let us examine this man who sent his own wife to a concentration camp and directed the murder of Josef Stalin's wife.

When Khrushchev was in the United States last fall Americans saw flashes of his monstrous temper, his grotesque figures of speech, his preoccupation with death, his appetite for violence. Then, at the Paris summit meeting, his veil of pretense for peace and understanding was ripped off, and he stood revealed full face.

The real Khrushchev was known long before. The files of the House Committee on Un-American Activities are crammed full of the testimony of those who were eye-witnesses to his rise to power in Russia. They began their account with the year 1930 when Khrushchev was trying to prove to Josef Stalin his fitness to become a member of the Central Committee. His proving ground was the Ukraine, where:

1. He bossed a genocide that took an estimated six to seven million lives.
2. He personally engineered the systematic starvation of millions of Ukrainians.
3. He participated in the slaughter of 80 per cent of the Ukraine's intellectuals, directed the secret police murder of 400,000 political foes.

4. He organized man-made famines in 1938.

5. He uprooted the Catholic Church in the Ukraine, erased 4,400 churches, and closed 127 monasteries. Today the church does not exist in the Ukraine.

The committee's witnesses testified that Stalin rewarded Khrushchev with important posts for his skill in eliminating enemies of the state. By 1944, according to the transcript, Khrushchev was dispatched to the Ukraine again to deal with a resistance movement. The survivors report that at his order the secret police:

"Cut into the skin and tore the skin off living bodies."

"They also nailed people on the crosses. They cut out eyes, broke bones in legs and arms and extracted nails."

One witness before the committee said mass graves opened after a Khrushchev-directed purge revealed 9,449 maimed and mutilated bodies.

As premier of all the Russias, Khrushchev was confronted in 1956 with a Hungarian freedom uprising, the first to contest his authority. His reaction was similar to his performance in the Ukraine:

1. 30,000 Hungarians were killed during and after the revolt.
2. He ordered the deportation of 12,000 persons to the Soviet Union.
3. He imprisoned hundreds of thousands in Hungary.
4. He confined 15,000 to slave labor camps.

Thus, as he had proved himself to Stalin, he now proved to his fellow Communists that he was as tough as Stalin.

What has he in mind for the United States? A speech he made in Warsaw in 1955 gives some insight:

"We must realize that we cannot co-exist eternally, for a long time. One of us must go to his grave. They (the Americans and the West) do not want to go to their grave, either. What can be done? We must push them to their grave."

This is Nikita S. Khrushchev, by word and deed.
